When you access or use the Services we automatically collect information about you, including:

- Information Collected by Cookies and Other Tracking Technologies: We use various technologies to collect information, including cookies.

Cookies

We use cookies, and other tracking technologies (Google Analytics) to learn how our website are used and how they perform.

Cookies are small data files a website uses to remember certain information about you to distinguish you from other users on our Site. We may set a few cookies to authenticate your login session, track your preferences to personalize your experience, improve our Services, and collect anonymous analytics data.

Cookies are used by our website to enable the functionality of certain areas to make it easier for people visiting our website.

We use third party analytics service(s) including Google Analytics to evaluate how users interact with our Services. It tells us usage and traffic information, such as the number of first-time visitors that visit our Services, how long the visitors stayed, and how the site or service was accessed. By knowing how people use our Services, we can make it better. For more information about how Google Analytics collects information about you, including how you can opt out, visit <http://www.google.com/analytics/learn/privacy.html>.
